The Pearl of the Lagoons

When we think of Abidjan, we probably think of big meetings International. But Abidjan is much more than business tourism. It is a city that reveals itself with a rich history, a vibrant culture, a traditional culinary art, between street food and afro-fusion and finally, a striking urban biodiversity. Abidjan has no shortage of relevant stories to tell. Immerse yourself in the heart of the city to indulge in happiness. Bordered by the Gulf of Guinea and dotted with lagoons, Abidjan is the most populous agglomeration in Côte d'Ivoire, with its 6,321,017 inhabitants (RGPH 2021).

This district extends energetically over 2,119 km<sup>2</sup>, with communes with qualifiers distinguishing them from each other (Abobo, Adjamé, Attécoubé, Cocody, Koumassi, Marcory, Plateau, Port-Bouët, Treichville, Yopougon, Anyama, Bingerville, Brofodoumé, Songon). Abidjan has long been home to the administrative centre of the country, but above all, it produces most of the country's economic wealth: it is the business centre, along with the Commune of the Plateau. The history of Abidjan rhymes with that of the Place de la République and its statue "The Iron Lady", which stands at the entrance to the Commune of the Plateau and welcomes any visitor. Formerly Place LAPALUD (Maurice-Pierre LAPALUD: Governor of the colony in 1916), built in 1957 and inaugurated on March 15, 1958, parallel to the Félix Houphouët Boigny bridge, this square was erected as Place de la République (or Place de l'Indépendance), in commemoration of the accession of Côte d'Ivoire at independence on 7 August 1960.

As for the "Iron Lady", it symbolises the name given to the locality at the time "Abidjan". Encountered by settlers, during a reconnaissance of the places of the Ebrié lagoon near Anoumabo, this Tchaman woman carrying a basket of leaves on her head replied "min tchan m'bidjan", which can be translated as: "I cut leaves," when asked, "Where are you from?". ## THE PEARL OF THE LAGOONS

by Prince Edja

Day 1

Plateau.

Access a masterpiece of Ivorian independence thanks to the extraordinary architecture of this monument, imagined for the glory of a woman mounted on a pedestal, who holds on her head, a basket filled with leaves. The Great Mosque, with its captivating blue dome, invites you to follow in the footsteps of the architects Koffi & Diabaté.

The ascent of the Boulevard de la République opens up the sky-blue trail of one of the architectural wonders of the Ivory Coast, the atypical Saint-Paul Cathedral of the Plateau. A trip down memory lane leads a few metres away, to the Museum of Civilisations de Côte d'Ivoire opened in 1942, which exhibits one of the finest ethnographic collections of masks, statues and furniture.

The cable-stayed bridge and the corniche promenade will complete the futuristic vision of the Plateau.

Day 2

In the Commune of Cocody.

Let yourself be taken to the National Floristic Centre, nestled within the Félix Houphouët Boigny University, an estate of more than ten hectares (10.35 ha), in search of the iboga and the family of discreet hinds with beautiful red flanks!

Then, head for the Bay of Marcène, in the village of Blockauss, one of the 60 villages of the Chaman people who resist urban planning in the commune of Cocody.

Day 3

In the communes of Adjamé, Attécoubé, Abobo and Yopougon. A sure landing in a world of ecological wonder.

Live a unique experience by setting foot in either the Banco National Park erected in 1963 in the heart of Abidjan and snugly inserted, with its 3,438 ha, in the 4 communes; or at the Bini estate, about 60 minutes from Abidjan, with a clay bath as a bonus.

On a deckchair or in a hammock, what could be more pleasant than reading a book or a comic book by Marguerite ABOUET to meet the mythical Aya of Yopougon, if you don't go there, you are immediately transported there.

ABIDJAN BY NIGHT

A city with a thousand facets, at night, Abidjan awakens and shines with a thousand lights. Everyone meets in one of the many trendy places of the capital: bar, discotheque, rooftop, lounge, maquis ...

Between African rhythms and international music, Abidjan's nightlife will not fail to seduce you.

Babi is the sweetest in the world, the revellers are waiting for you.

ISSEY TABA

Welcome to Tonkpi to live at the rhythm of nature, with the guides of Man tourist city.

Day 1

Dinner under the moonlight

Day 2

The famous chain of 18 mountains that overlooks the city of Man has as its cumulative point Mount Tonkouï or Tonkpi 1189 m. "Tonkouï" means "great mountain" in Yacouba. Its beautiful natural waterfall of Zadepleu, also known as the Cascade de Man, will refresh your emotions. The Dent de Man from the top of its 881 m, one of the mountains that make up this range, attracts the eye because of the peculiarity of its shape similar to a human incisor. It is the symbol of the city. Its waterfall and natural pool will sublimate you.

Day 3

The village of Dompleu invites you to savour the unexpected. Its famous Gba mask, the Tematé dance as well as the catfish of the sacred river are worth a look.

Day 4

In search of a water flow, the love of waterfalls leads us to Déoulé and Zagoué.

Day 5

Witness the mysterious vine bridges of Vatouo and Lueupleu, for a breathtaking experience.

Day 6

Remembrance tourism: from resistance to resilience in the footsteps of Almamy SAMORY TOURE (1830-1900). Incursion into the village of Guélérou, to experience the capture of the Emperor of Wassoulou. Then Kpogoin invites us to its mysterious door to finally discover the Bliita waterfall.

Day 7

Rhythmic lunch around the craft market accompanied by the dance of the stilt walkers.

Day 8

Taï between Nature and Culture
An ethnobotanical tour of discovery and sensation in the largest tropical forest in West Africa, the TAÏ National Park, classified in 1982 as a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Day 9

Guaranteed bliss at the observation of mangabey monkeys and red colobus monkeys

Day 10

Immersion in the village of Gouléako to feed on the culture of the Oubis.

Day 1

Welcome to the pearl of the coast to let yourself be propelled into a postcard landscape. A world where time seems to have stopped a long time ago. We all know that photo of a beach with bright sand and polished rocks as if set up to set a magical scenery.

Day 2

Arrive in Grand-Béréby for an introductory getaway to the Haute Dodo falls and a dip in the natural pools of Tabaoulé. An overnight stay at the Mermaid Bay will open the arms of the mermaids to you.

Day 3

Grand-Béréby awaits you for a walk on the Nero River to meet white-nosed monkeys and mangroves. Then, lunch at the Katoum with a breathtaking view. The absorbent blue sea and its fine sand offer you a moment of happiness.

Day 4

Remembrance tourism and the duty of remembrance, a unique asset for the forgotten beauty: Sassandra. A witness to history, it bears the scars of the Second World War. In pursuit of the SS DUMANA where the past and the present of a history that is still alive coexist. If you're a surfing lover, Drevin Beach gives you the stage.

Remembrance tourism with the Colonial Tour in the heart of the France district of Grand-Bassam which has become a place of memory. To end the day, a visit to the villages of N'Zimah Kotoko and Mossou immerses you in the culture of royalty.

Day 2

Assinie Mafia, seaside resort.
The Ehotile Islands National Park, classified as a RAMSAR Site in 2005 and a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 2006, covers 722 hectares. This group of six islands is scattered over the Aby lagoon (Assoco-Monobaha, Balouaté, Mea, Niamouan, Elouamin and the sacred island of Bosson-Assoum). This walk leads us to the discovery of several species of birds from the forest and manatees, endangered species. But also, cannons dating from the seventeenth century, places of rituals and cemeteries of kings.

Then, the visit of the mouth of the river and a lunch in the A paradisiacal setting will end the day.

Day 3

A stopover in Elima, the region of origin of cocoa, home to the remains of the first school in Côte d'Ivoire founded by the Frenchman Arthur VERDIER. This space of "memory " ensures the preservation as well as perpetuates the memory of colonization. To recover from your emotions, enjoy a N'douhan, a specialty of braised fish accompanied by steamed cassava in a maquis area.

Day 4

Ayamé, the palace of the Monin Bia, by Dominique KANGA, is perched on top of a hill with a spectacular view of the Bia River. Access this masterpiece of the Ivorian Renaissance, with its extraordinary architecture in a calm and relaxing setting.
Ayamé is also home to its artificial lake and its Ayamé 1 and 2 dams, a pleasant detour.

THE NORTH, AN OPEN-AIR HISTORY BOOK

A magnificent region, full of emotion. From Kong to Bingerville, colonial history brings Governor Louis-Gustave BINGER closer to the warrior Sékou OUATTARA.

History to discover with BINI's Travels.

Day 1

By road to the North, a stop in the cosmopolitan city of Bouaké invites you to discover clay powder through a guided tour of Tanou-Sakassou. Katiola will welcome you and share with you the fascinating world of Mangoros potters, a woman's business. You will be able to work with women's associations to make the terracotta canaries of this ancestral art that has stood the test of time. A stop at the ceramics center to contemplate contemporary vases will show the symbiosis between local culture and Western craftsmanship put forward by the artisans. The rest of the route will be punctuated by the crossing of vast expanses of savannah dotted with cashew and shea fields, leading to Fombolo to discover the sacred mountain where metal is forbidden. Prior Authorization !

Day 2

Travel through time guaranteed in Kong, a city of memory, from prosperity to destruction. The Almamy SAMORY TOURE passed through and is still very present there because of its history. A unique place, Kong has kept its Sudanese imprint with its large and small Mosques, both listed as UNESCO World Heritage Sites (2011). At the end of the day, an overnight stay in the city will inevitably plunge you into a range of emotions. At sunrise, what traveller could without heartbreak not visit the Comoé National Park with an area of 1,148,756 ha, also classified as a UNESCO World Heritage Site (1983) as a biosphere reserve.

Day 3

Another city of discovery is Ferkessédougou, capital of Tchologo, and an important crossroads for the countries of the hinterland. Ferkessédougou has sugar cane and cotton plantations and has a dry port, which is an asset for its development.

Day 4

Head to Korhogo, the heart of the Senufo country and its Poro which means heritage, to let you tell the rites and dances of this initiatory society that transmits knowledge and wisdom. A stopover in Fakaha and the famous Korhogo canvases with colors from nature, for an immersion in this craft that features animal-totems and human characters. Then Waraniéré, the weavers and the sculptors will guide the choice of the souvenir to be brought back. Why not the beautiful clay beads. On the road to M'Bengue, Koni fiefdom, blacksmiths accompany you to meet the last blacksmiths extracting iron. A unique ancestral know-how to pass on. To end the day, it is with stars in your eyes that you will experience an evening in the moonlight to the sound of the balafon supported by gourds decorated with cowrie shells. The Boloye show or the dance of the panther men will sublimate your evening. Dance that would make it rain?

Day 5

You will drop off your suitcases at the ecological farm of Lokoli, a place of pleasure by the water, along the Bandama River for guaranteed moments of relaxation. A window that opens for you on the peasant world where you can discover a peaceful site and local products.

The Journey Continues....

TRAVEL INSPIRATION 6

LE CENTER, THE ART OF LIVING IN COLOR

Yamoussoukro was originally a village called "Ngokro".

It was later renamed in honour of Queen Yamoussou and the suffix "Kro", which means village in the Baoulé language, was added.

Day 1

Yamoussoukro, the village of Yamoussou, says Mo! Lunch at the restaurant, or for a change of scenery in the maquis at Wolf to discover the Papuan boli!

Then, a visit to the Basilica of Our Lady of Peace, a high-quality architectural jewel, this largest religious building in the world invites you to meditate and discover. It is signed Pierre Fakhoury. Then, let yourself be tempted by an exotic adventure in the middle of the city. A walk along the lakes for a presentation and introduction to caimans and crocodiles. Urban lakes are important in the conservation of waterfowl and landbirds. They have a rich and diverse avifauna of 33 species divided into 10 families. This ecotourism activity linked to observation will enrich you.

Day 2

The Great Mosque does not leave you indifferent on the way to Bomizambo and Kondéyaokro to visit the artisan weavers of the Baoulé loincloth. Very nice souvenir to take home.

Day 3

Tiassalé, the timeless in the Agnèby-Tiassa with DANY's travels. The beautiful arcaded bridge at the entrance to the city and built in 1934, is the signature of Tiassalé. A remembrance tourism, this historic city takes you back in time. In the footsteps of Captain MANNET, drowned in Ellosso with his crew, in the waters of the Bandama River. Stop at KANGA NIANZE, a major witness to the history of slavery in Côte d'Ivoire. The guide will make you experience this visit with a lot of emotions.

Day 4

Swiss Tropical Plantation. This 500-hectare estate offers a magnificent setting, with its large rows of hundred-year-old trees and its cocoa, rubber and food crops plantations... For even more fun, the ride is done by tuk tuk with stops at strategic points. The banks of the Bandama River invite you to taste typical Ivorian dishes, before lounging on the hammocks, lulled by the rapids of the river.

Day 5

From Cocoa to Chocolate from Suzanne's Sweets to Kokoumbo-Tiémorokro. The chocolate route will no longer hold any secrets for you.

Day 6

A rather special canoe ride on the Bandama River offers you a calm and relaxing landscape, different species of birds blend into the scenery. This enchanting environment invites us to search for the ears of the famous hippopotamuses of the region. To end this day in the Ivorian atmosphere, your dinner will be enhanced by an evening of dancing to the sound of traditional music.

Day 7

AHOUAKRO. Unique in its kind, its archaeological park preserves the remains of a distant Palaeolithic era. With the process of erosion, the stones have taken on surprising natural shapes and configurations. There are traces of tool sharpening, striated monuments, polishing workshops, rocks with decorative walls. The extraordinary guide on site will make you experience this visit in a very fun way. Not far from the park, the banks of an artificial lake welcome your chic picnic elaborated with originality by the Fine Bouche house. Relaxation guaranteed. A dinner with interactive dancing will round off your evening.

LIFESTYLE & Local Gastronomie

Untouched flavours of a perpetual culinary art

In Côte d'Ivoire, the expression "Maquis" refers to a gastronomic, cultural and political reality (Kouakou N'Guessan, F. 1983, Cahiers ORSTOM: Sciences humaines). Above all, it is a place of catering, offering local dishes, at reasonable prices, it is frequented for conviviality, the weaving of fraternal ties, in an increasingly urbanized environment favoring anonymity, individualism, .....

The maquis, at the birth of a national consciousness, evolved in concept, but also in design. From makeshift shelters, to landscaping, or even spaces designed by an interior designer, the maquis has become an event space, embellished with the presence of a Woyo group, or a DJ. It still retains with a certain charm, its character as a very friendly and welcoming place to eat, share, meet, conviviality, in the right atmosphere.
